

Welcome, November!

Take a special walk to kick off a brand new month. Use all of your senses to discover what the world is doing as November begins in your biome. Draw or write about what you observe below, in a nature journal or wherever you like!

What can we see?

What can we hear?

What can we smell?

What can we feel?

What can we taste?

